“The Wall” by Peiquan Ma, Yuan Liu, Jing Cheng, Yuxuan Liang and Zi’ang Li from the School of Architecture at Tianjin University in Tianjin (China).

“Mending the gap: Landscape conservation for the island of Aliabet” by Shreeni Benjamin from the Faculty of Architecture of the CEPT University in Ahmedabad (India).

More information about the Winners can be found in the PRESS KIT.

Anna Ramos, director of the Fundació Mies van der Rohe, Georg Pendl, president of the Architects' Council of Europe (ACE) and Ilaria Valente, president of the European Association for Architectural Education (EAAE), congratulated the winners, finalists, shortlisted and participants and highlighted the essential role of education in a continuously changing world.

During the Young Talent Architecture Award Day, the winners and the jury members will talk about the future of their career and of the architecture profession and the importance of our environment and heritage. To conclude the event, Anna Ramos, Mr. Georg Pendl, Ilaria Valente and Magda Mostafa (Co-Director, UNESCO-UIA Architectural Education Commission & Co-Reporter) will debate on architecture education and the first steps into the profession after studying architecture, landscape architecture and urban design.

YTAA is an inherent part of the European Union Prize for Contemporary Architecture – Mies van der Rohe Award (EU Mies Award), organised by the Fundació Mies van der Rohe with the support of the Creative Europe programme of the European Union, in partnership with the European Association for Architectural Education (EAAE) and the Architects' Council of Europe (ACE-CAE); World Architects as a founding partner; the European Cultural Centre as a partner in Venice; sponsored by Jung, Jansen and Regent; and with the support of USM. These partners will allow the YTAA Winners to become part of a network with the architects and critics involved in the EU Mies Award. To support their professional development, Europe's youngest architecture talents receive:

- a diploma
- 5.000€ each
- a profile in World-Architects.com
- visibility through the YTAA 2020 exhibition in Venice and universities worldwide
- participation in events such as the Awards ceremony and the Future Architecture Platform □ USM furniture to design their work space

Exhibition

The YTAA 2020 exhibition will open on May 22, 2021 at the European Cultural Centre - Palazzo Mora in Venice, as a Collateral event of the 17th International Architecture Exhibition of La Biennale di Venezia.

The Awards Ceremony will take place shortly after together with a debate called 'Learning together' in the framework of the Biennale Architettura 2021 "How will we live together?" curated by Hashim Sarkis.

As in the previous editions, the YTAA results will be presented in a traveling exhibition that will start its journey in universities worldwide in November 2020 and the exhibition in Venice during the Biennale Architettura 2021.

Publication

All nominated designs have been published online and will be published in a catalogue; they will also become part of the EU Mies Award Archive as a recognition of their authors and the schools they come from.
